MEMORANDUM FOR: Director, FBIS

FROM: Chief, London Bureau

THROUGH: Chief, Operations Group

SUBJECT: Monthly Report -- London Bureau -- November 1982

I. GENERAL

A busy month in which all else took second place to the high drama of CPSU General Secretary Brezhnev's death, concerning which there is some detail in the Operations Section of this report. It was ironic that this event should already have taken place as visiting AG analyst [] was discussing the succession problem with a British Foreign Office colleague in London.

The 50th Anniversary of the BBC External Services was marked by a concert given by the BBC Symphony Orchestra in the Albert Hall. The bureau chief and his wife attended the concert and a reception held after it in the top gallery of the hall. Hosted by [] the services' managing director, the festivities at one point landed the bureau chief at a table at which were seated a ranking AFP correspondent, the head of the AP bureau in London, and the head of REUTERS. The bureau chief, needless to say, kept his mouth shut.

STAT

The occasion of [] retirement was marked by several parties, a luncheon hosted by HMS BBC [] and a farewell sherry party in the conference room. [] is returning to Raleigh, N.C. to begin her retirement.

On the technical side, modification orders were placed with the BBC to prepare the rooms in the Cubicles Building for our Pressfax operation. The work is to be completed before the equipment is shipped from Okinawa. Two contract technicians for this project are in process and we expect them to EOD in December. On the ROSET antenna project, discussions have continued with the BBC architects regarding the cable ducting from the ROSET site to the Cubicles Building and we are awaiting a third bid before submitting the project to Headquarters for approval. This should take place before the end of December.

II. OPERATIONS

A. Editorial/Monitorial

1. November events focused heavily on the Soviet Union: the Great October Socialist Revolution celebrations on 5/7 November; Brezhnev's death and funeral; the selection of Andropov as general secretary in succession of Brezhnev; the CPSU central Committee plenum on 22 November; and the meetings of the USSR Supreme Soviet session on 23-24 November. Pressure for swift, accurate handling of material on these events was intense; and the response of the entire bureau staff matched the events with dedication and thorough professionalism.
2. On 11 November, ⁱⁿ accordance with previously coordinated plans set up to cover the post-Brezhnev succession period, the BBC instituted a signon to signoff television watch on the 14 degree satellite, primarily using its own small dish, viewing the picture live and processing using video as an aid to audio monitoring, thus accelerating coverage plans originally scheduled not to begin before 1 December. Although this step of using video as an aid to audio monitoring is a limited one, it is foreseen as one in a series of steps to be taken toward full, integrated Soviet television coverage.
3. The BBC's television coverage during the month's crisis events was supplemented by a makeshift video crew consisting of [redacted] our lone trained audio-video monitor; [redacted] associate editor [redacted] imported on TDY from Vienna, the PMU's [redacted] and AG's [redacted]. The difficult layout of the equipment and the distances that have to be bridged between monitoring and editorial sites made this coverage nightmarish at times but the job was accomplished with grace, enthusiasm, and skill.
4. The other major story covered in depth by the bureau during the entire latter half of the month was the collapse of the OAU summit in Tripoli, Libya, and the consequent dashing of Libyan leader Mu'ammarr al-Qadhafi's hopes to become OAU chairman.

5. PMU editor [] and monitor [] were sent TDY to Okinawa Bureau to help in Pressfax processing of the Soviet central press after Brezhnev's death. They arrived in Okinawa on 15th November and immediately went to work, filing reports on Soviet press behavior and translating items in time for DAILY REPORT publication on the same day they appeared in the Soviet press. [] and [] stayed at Okinawa Bureau through the Supreme Soviet session, which had been postponed from 16-17 November to 23-24 November because of Brezhnev's death. Working with the Okinawa team, they were able to translate Gosplan chief Baybakov and Finance Minister Garbuzov's reports to the session in time for publication in the 24 November DAILY REPORT, the same day they appeared in Izvestiya. [] will return to London on 6 December. STAT
6. During his TDY visit to London Bureau, Analysis Group's [] met with PMU personnel to discuss coverage of the Soviet press in general, and plans for Pressfax processing in specific. Plans for Vienna's assumption of coverage of the Soviet journals and ways for PMU to assist in selection at the outset of the project were also discussed. The impact of recent new requirements for coverage of speeches of selected regional leaders and other materials appearing in the Soviet regional press was discussed, and ways for best sharing processing of material from the regional press with UD were explored. [] also met with the Bureau's editorial staff for a useful discussion of headquarters needs for video description and how the Bureau can meet these needs. STAT
7. The combination of Brezhnev's death, the Supreme Soviet session, [] TDY to Okinawa, and the necessity to help in TV monitoring meant that PMU's Russian team, particularly the senior media analyst and the editors, were called upon to put in an exceptional effort. Over 100 hours of overtime were worked in the last two weeks of the month, and duties were taken on for which PMU had neither the training nor the responsibility. The fact that they coped so uncomplainingly and well with this added burden is a testimony to their commitment and professionalism. STAT

B. Communications

1. Once again, the London relay worked hard in support of other bureaus: Several outages on the normal traffic path for Vienna bureau involved us in direct filing of 208 messages TO Vienna, and 69 messages FROM, via the direct standby circuit. On 21 November, Nicosia's relay via the Embassy failed and the Caversham-Nicosia standby circuit was activated -- the process took

-4-

15 minutes. We have since taken 998 Nicosia messages for entering into our own Autodin and assisted NC coordination with [] The outage continues into December -- way past original estimates of outage duration.

STAT

2. On 23 November, 26 takes of [] were received on our tape facility (from Okinawa bureau) for passing to headquarters on our direct circuit for additional copies. This procedure was heavily delayed because of equipment problems at the Washington end. Headquarters acknowledged appreciation to the teletypists for their fine job and extra efforts.

STAT

C. Cologne Unit

1. An hour-long government foreign policy statement presented by Chancellor Kohl to the Bundestag on the 25th was processed.
2. On the 26th of the month, an urgent request was received from the U.S. Embassy in Bonn to process a Bonn newspaper's interview with a Soviet soldier who had allegedly defected in Afghanistan. On reviewing the item, it was determined that this interview was a rewrite report on an interview filed by the unit some 3 weeks earlier from DIE WELT and subsequently published in the Soviet Union DAILY REPORT.

.III. ADMINISTRATION

1. Editor [] arrived 16 November on PCS assignment from Headquarters.
2. Deputy Chief [] retired effective 26 November and departed for Washington, D.C. and Raleigh, North Carolina, the next day.
